How to use a Multimedia Storywalk:

Step 1 StoryWalk...

Read the title and “walk” (don’t read yet!) through the pages of the book. Talk about the pictures.

Step 2 Predictions...

Use the 5W Questions on page 3 to help you predict what is happening in the story.

Step 3 Watch the DVD...

Watch the DVD to learn more about the story.

Step 4 Read the story...

Read the words on each page of the book.

Step 5 Review...

Return to the 5W Question page and record what occurred in the story.

5W Questions:

Who is in the story?

---

What is happening?

---

When is the story happening?

---

Where is Snap today?

---

Why did this happen?

---

It is important to begin building reading and writing skills early.
These 5W questions help a child establish characters, setting, and a story plot.
A story summary is a valuable skill for young readers.

Snap can jog. He is hot.

Can Snap swim?

He sits in the pan. Snap is still hot.

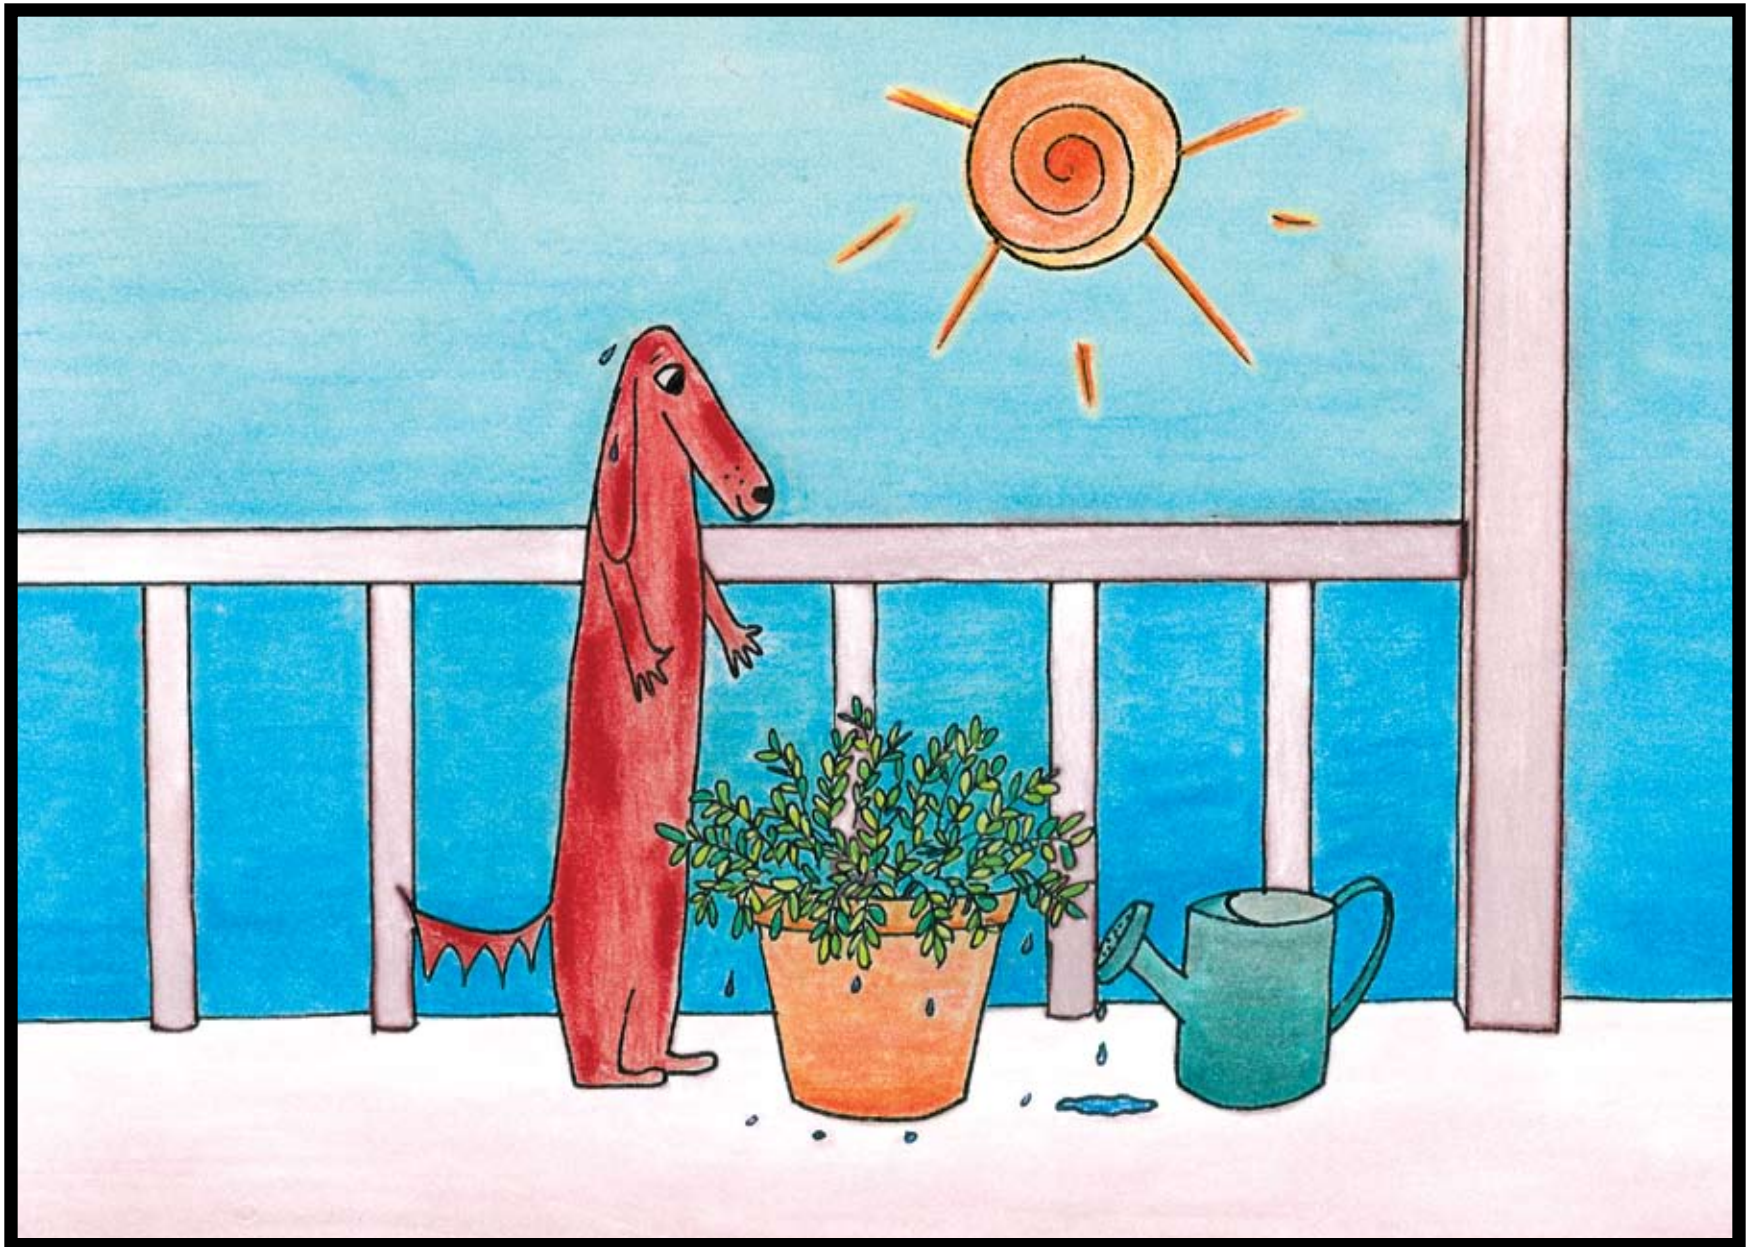

Oh! It can flip.
It can flop. It is not hot.

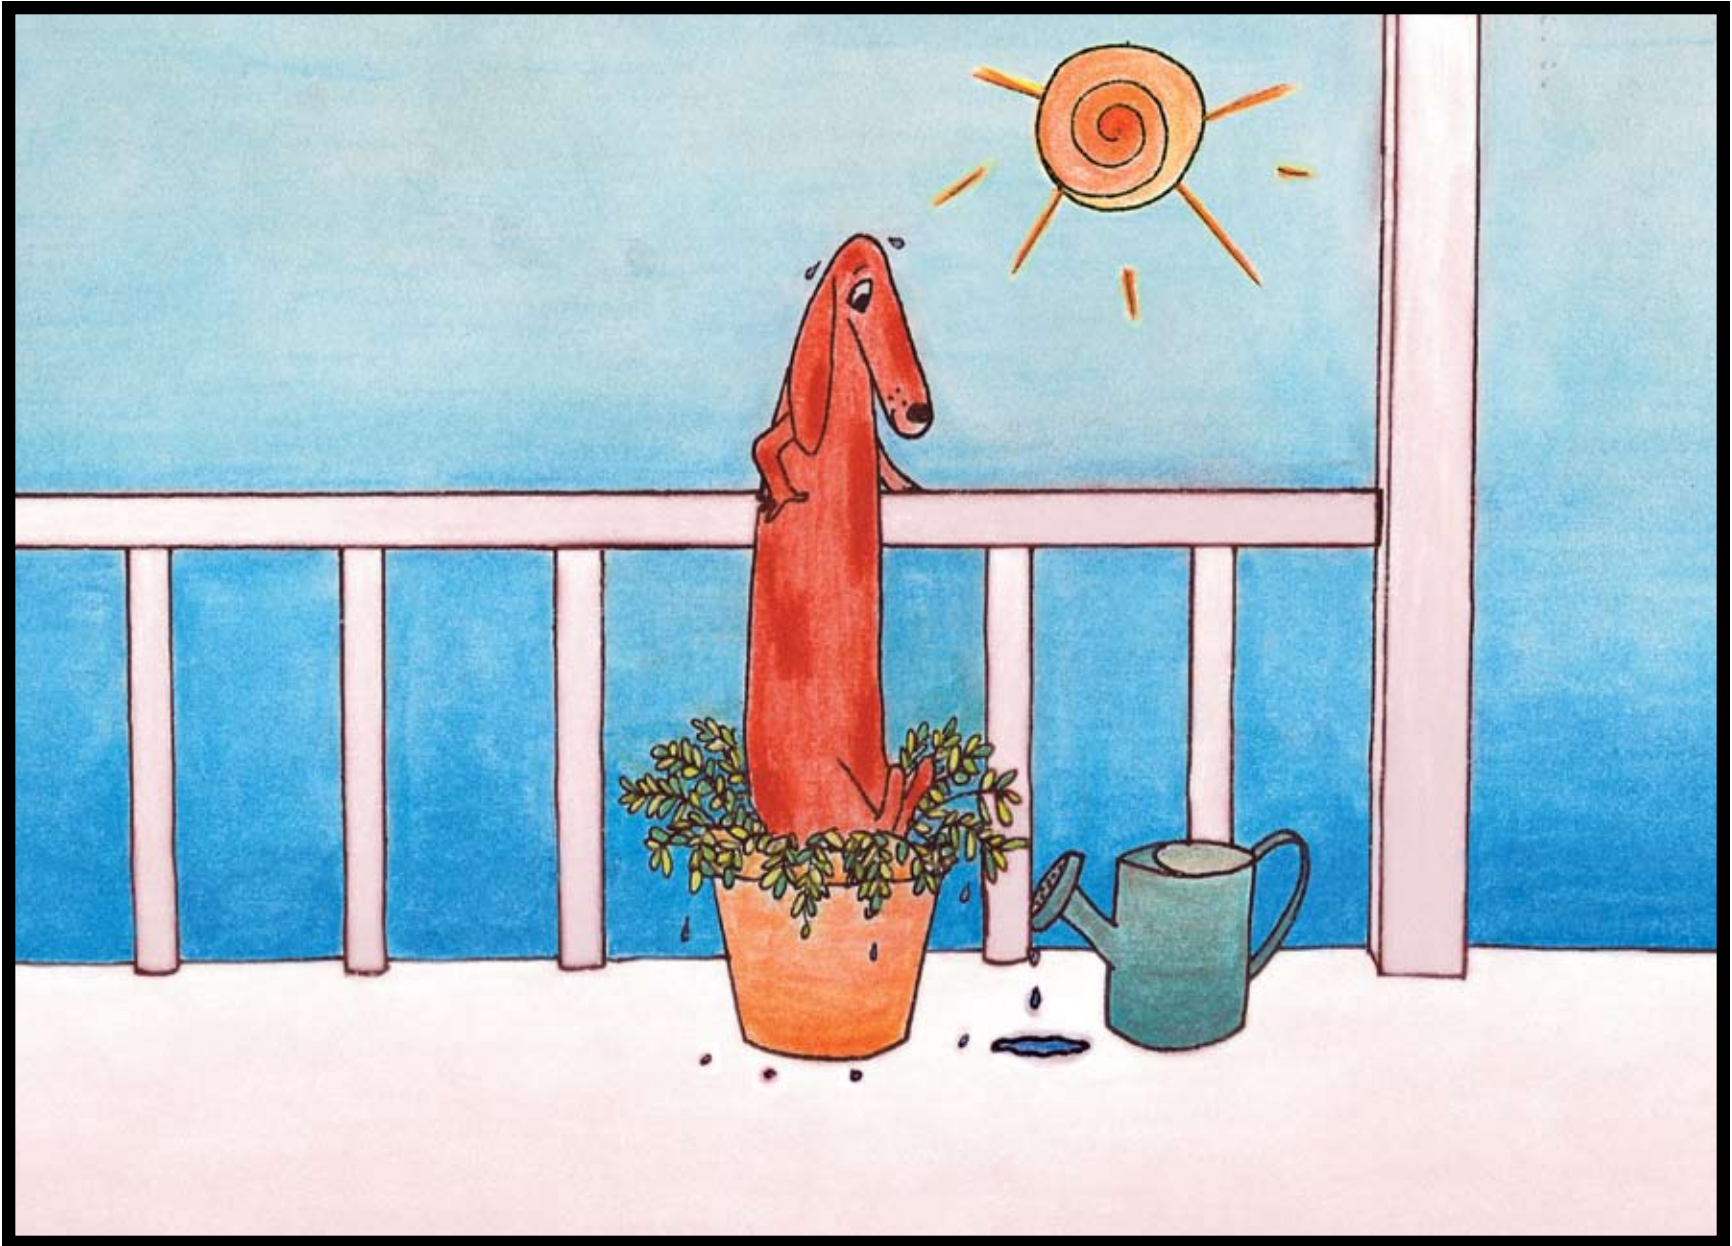

Snap can stand and hop.

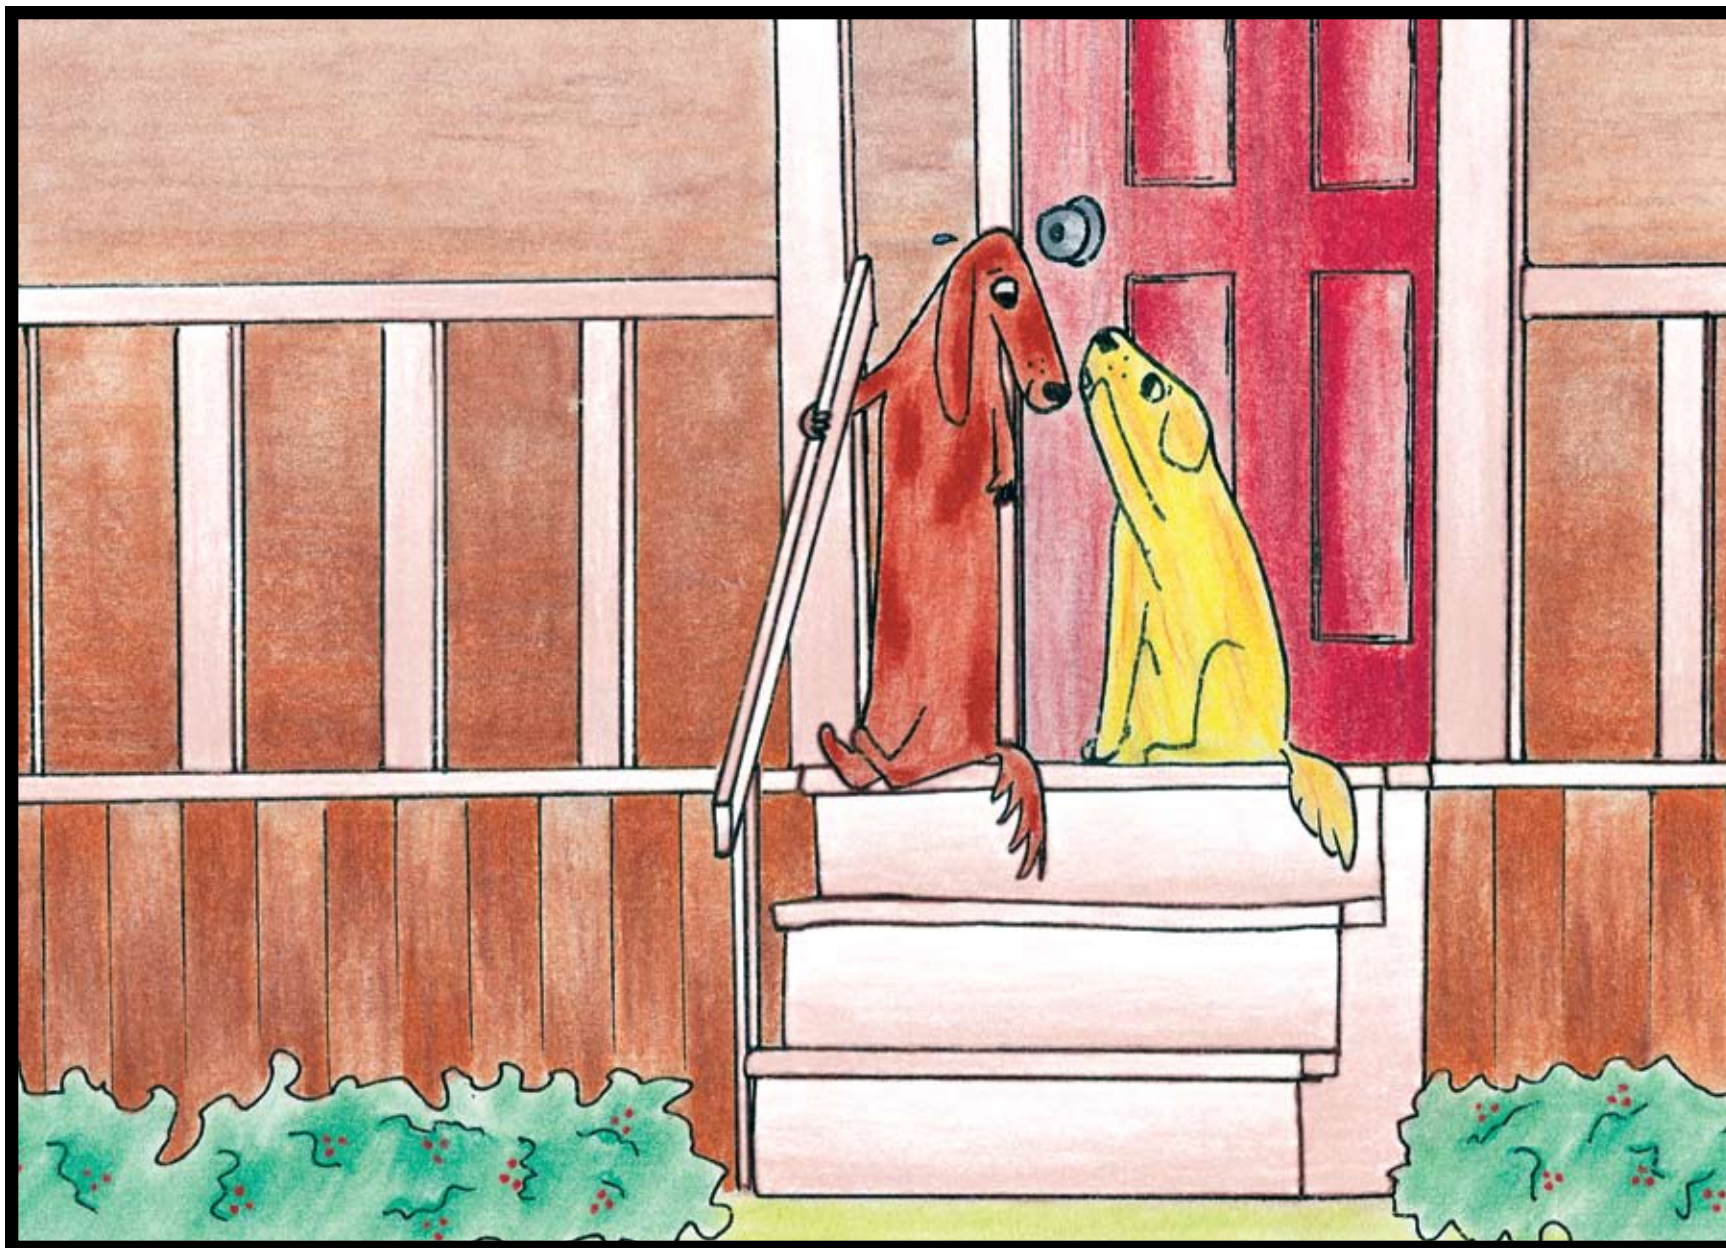

Plop! Snap can not fit.

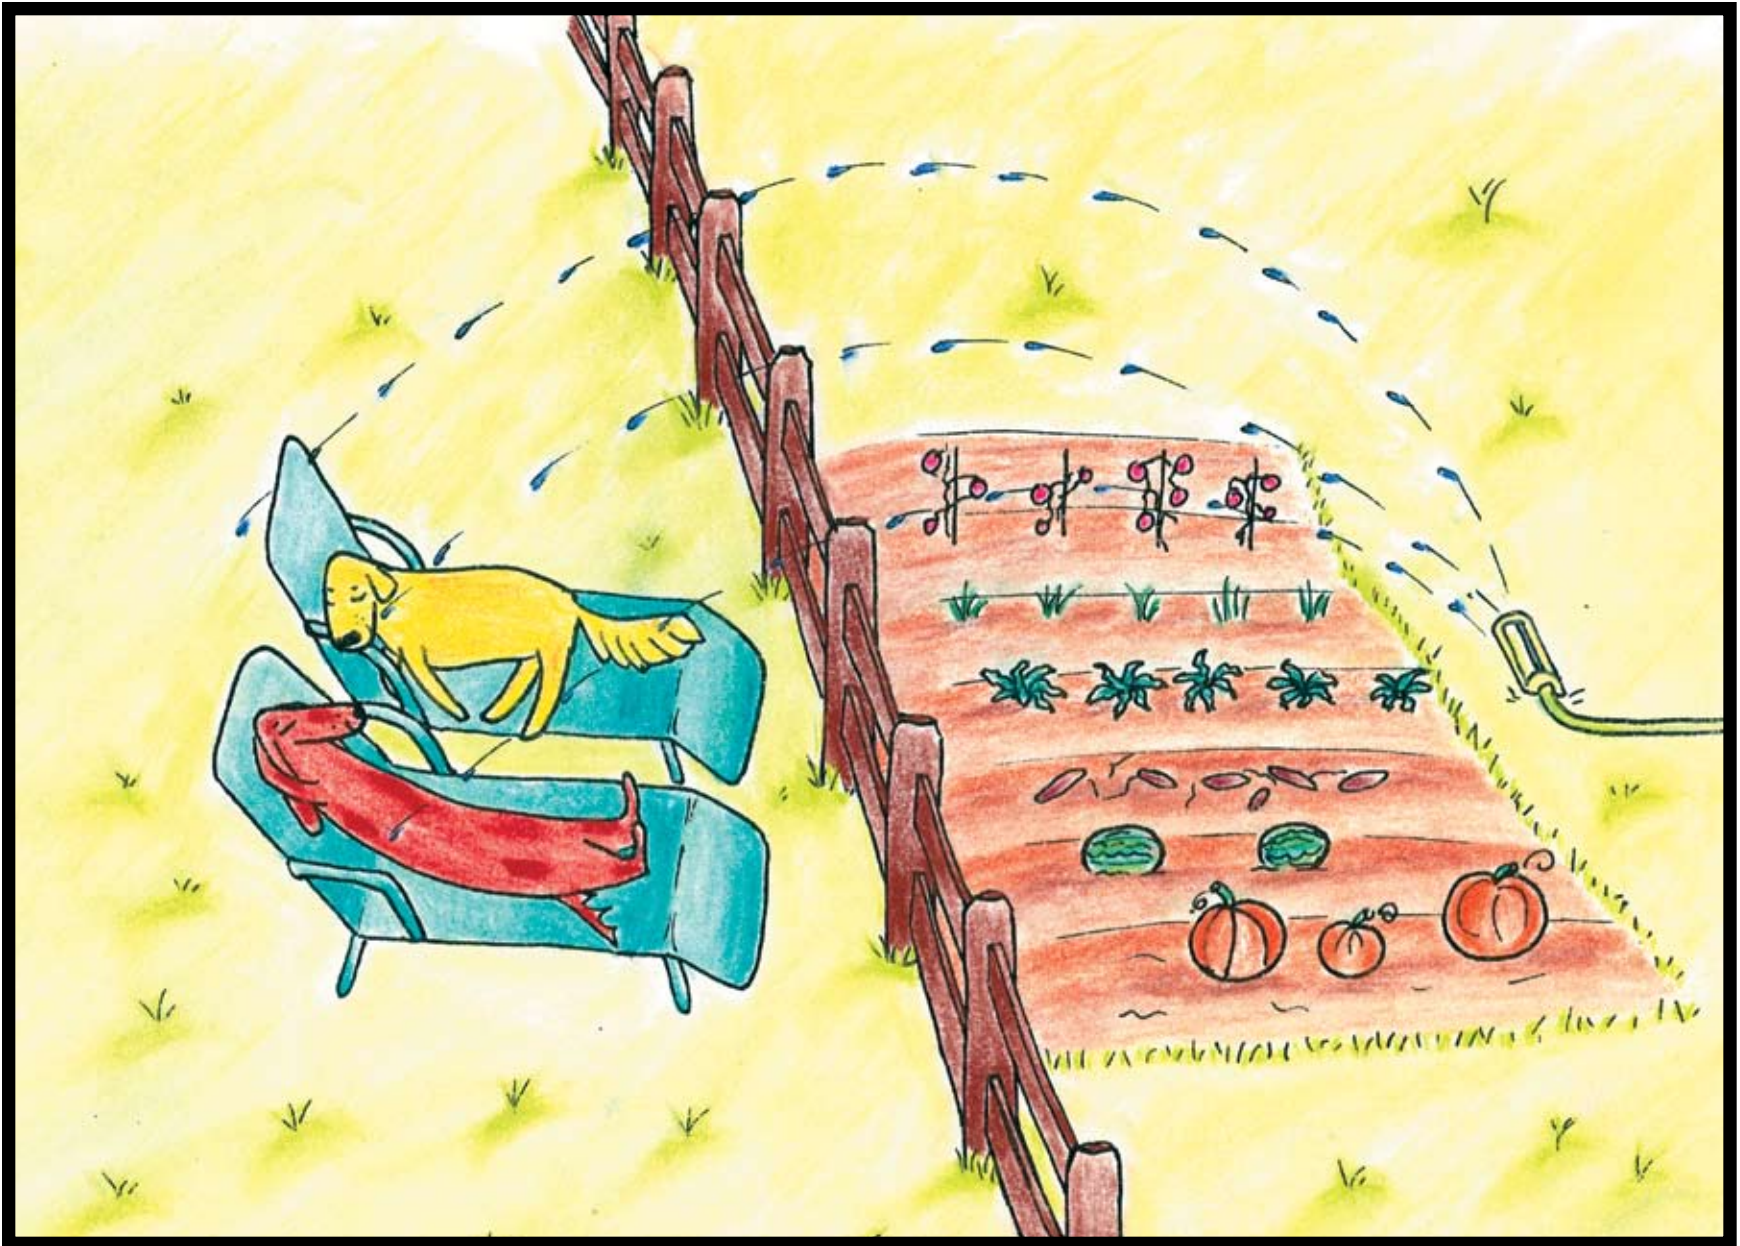

The plant in the pot. It is not hot.

Snap can sit in the pot.      He is not a plant.
Snap is still hot.

Fran can help.

Snap is not hot.      Fran is not hot.
Snap and Fran are glad.

The first Multimedia StoryWalk Series!

Multisensory Teaching founder Alison Luria teamed with Lilypod Media to create the first ever Multimedia StoryWalk Series: Snap and friends. This series supports multimodal learning by combining animated visuals with controlled vocabulary reading exercises. Young readers will benefit from the well-designed combination of visuals and text that capture their imagination and help them identify characters, setting, and plot. Each book in the series is progressively more challenging, supporting comprehension, fluency, and vocabulary development while enabling significant gains in basic and higher-order learning. For more information about the series visit www.gr8reader.com.
